Four items were discussed during this meeting of the committee. The items are numbered and listed below.

1. County Role Call Updates:

Utah County – Mike Leifson: Utah County has been working with BYU to conduct a telephone survey about the effectiveness of the storm water program. The results of the survey will be presented to the committee.

All but one inter local agreement is in place within the county. The last will go before the County Commission within the next two weeks.

Materials for the school programs have been developed. The APWA National Training will be broadcast at Provo on April 22, 2004.

Davis County – Kim Wallace, The Davis County Storm Water Coalition will jointly send 3 people to the Storm Con conferences with coalition funds.

A recent storm caused a major mudslide in Farmington. An estimated ¾ inch of rain fell onto a burned slope. 3-4 foot diameter rocks came down with the slide. 6 houses were damaged as a result. Davis County is looking for federal funds to build new debris basins.

Weber County – Gene Bingham, The APWA National Training will be broadcast from the County Commission Chambers. Weber County is working to finalize a letter to contractors within the county notifying them of requirements.

The county will outfit 2 trailers for emergency flood control.

Cache County – Mark Teuscher, Larry Andher, Cache County is in the process of developing a county storm water coalition. There will be 11 permitted entities within the coalition.

Salt Lake County – Karen Nichols, Laura Haskell, Salt Lake County will host an erosion control seminar on May 19. This will be a vendor style seminar where participants can view on the ground installations of various erosion and sediment controls. The training will take place at the Murray City Public Works Building. Five or Six vendors will display their devices. Sessions will be provided for municipal plan reviewers and for contractors.

Washington County – no attendance

2. Training Opportunities:

The APWA Erosion Control Training Seminar will take place on April 22, 2004. The training will be broadcast in several locations.

EPA will offer a modular training session for Phase II implementation in August.

Flood Plain Manager's conference is being organized for November.

Rand Fisher, DWQ, will provide training to the committee regarding the use of CWA Section 319 grants for Phase II implementation.

3. The mission statement will be updated slightly to fix some wording problems.
